The stated terms are non-binding standard terms in working days (Mon - Fri) based on experience. The information refers to "Time Definite" for shipments to and from the capital of the respective country.

The runtimes for "Day Definite" shipments provide the best possible runtime in or from the respective country. When transporting to certain areas, there may be different transit times. Please check the postal code of the recipient under dhl.de/express/times, the normal operating time as well as the product and service availability and check for dutiable shipments and also the goods value of the consignment. Runtime changes and country-specific restrictions on service availability are reserved. In case that a country leaves the European Union, DHL Express reserves the right to adjust rates or zones within 30 days or after written notice.
